M.B.C. Bible School Opens November 1st

The Bible school and Convocation Hall being erected by the M.B.C. church east of the C.P.R. track is rapidly assuming imposing proportions.

The site of its erection is part of five acres acquired by the church some years ago, and upon which it has held annually a camp for its people. The new building is located on the west side of this acreage, fronting on a road running through from Hespeller Street, is high and dry, and altogether a most desirable spot. The basement of the structure will be of cement, and in addition to the furnace will contain a laundry, kitchen, dining room, coal bin, receptacle for vegetables etc. Up stairs, on the first floor is the vestibule, with office adjoining, both facing west, and on the east side is a large room, about 15x30, which will be used for meetings, etc. On this floor is also the matron's room.

The top floor is given over to dormitories. Outside, the ground surrounding the building will be raised and levelled, and in time the whole beautified by the planting of trees and shrubs.

An asset of considerable value is a well 194 feet deep, drilled by Mr. Moon, the water in which comes within 87 feet of the surface. It is a good soft water and can be used for general use. It may be added that the plumbing and electrical wiring for the building has been done by W. G. Liesemer, our local hardware firm, the work being satisfactorily executed throughout. It is fully expected that everything will be in readiness for the Bible School to be opened on November 1st, when suitable ceremonies will commemorate the occasion.

One Thousand Fine for Selling Liquor.

A case of considerable interest to many was heard in the police court here on Saturday last, when the Great War Veterans' Club, of Carstairs, was charged before James W. Phillipson, justice of the peace, with selling liquor off the premises. The club was found guilty of the charge. Mr. Becker, of the attorney-general's department, prosecuted, and A. Harper Miller, of Carstairs, defended. The club was fined one thousand dollars and costs.

The Grandeur of Work

Some very significant statements appearing recently in the newspapers and magazines are worthy of repetition as pointing a moral to all individuals, communities and nations.

Several of these articles comment on the rapid and strong "comeback" staged by Germany. Following the signing of the peace treaty the German people found themselves relieved of the burden of maintaining a huge standing army and a large and expensive navy, but on the other hand, they had sustained the loss of all their colonies, practically all their mercantile shipping, and, like all countries, were faced with the re-organization of their industries from a war to a peace basis, and, in addition, their whole overseas export trade had been destroyed. Their money was valueless, and they were compelled to assume enormously heavy taxation to make good their losses and pay their reparation bills. There was only one solution to their difficulties, and that was for everybody to go to work, and work hard and long. They did so, and now the whole world is witnessing the spectacle of a rehabilitated Germany which is rapidly becoming prosperous.

Italy, too, was impoverished by the war. Her money was valueless; her industries in bad shape; her public debt huge, and many of her people of an indolent type, preferring to beg rather than work. It appeared that the whole country would fall into the hands of Bolsheviki Socialists. Mussolini arose as a dictator and saved the situation by prohibiting begging, ordering everybody to go to work, and re-organizing the industries of the country and prohibiting the importation of luxuries. As a result a new Italy is arising, presenting a sharp contrast to Russia where industry languishes and is largely destroyed, and unemployment is everywhere rife.

Probably the two most prosperous countries in the world today are the United States and Canada, and they are two countries where everybody, generally speaking, is willing and anxious to work, and, in fact, are at work. The aristocracy of these two nations are the workers, and the men and women to whom all look up are those who by their own efforts have achieved a marked success in life. Sometimes it is even charged that in the United States and Canada the people make too great a god of work, but at least it has brought peace and contentment at home, prosperity, and a high standard of living.

Now turn to another picture and view conditions in a country where, because of strikes and industrial upheavals, approximately two million men are not at work. The prolonged strike of the coal miners in Great Britain is working havoc in all directions, and not on the miners and mine owners alone. Following the general strike called to assist the miners, and which ended in complete failure, hundreds of thousands of workers, other than miners, were unable to get employment. Unemployment figures increased over May and June last by over 650,000. Industry in every line is suffering, the standard of living has been lowered, and Government revenues have failed to such an extent that the country is faced with a huge deficit this year. Even Canada suffers because of the inability of the people to buy wheat, butter, cheese, and other products we have to export. The effect of the miners' strike on their fellow workers is further disclosed by the announced inability of the Railwaymen's Union to meet the levy made on it to support the striking miners. No less than 45,000 railway men have not yet been given employment since the general strike in May last, while 200,000 more are working only three days a week. The same thing is true in scores of industries.

The lesson to be learned from these several sets of conditions is that, much as people may grumble about their work, and being obliged to work, the fact remains that in work lies the salvation of the race. All work and no play may make Jack a dull boy, but no work soon results in moral and physical degeneration. The weaklings of the present age on this continent are the sons and daughters of the rich who lack any incentive to work and who, finding time hang heavily on their hands, indulge in all sorts of foolishness and excesses. They are discontented, unhappy, useless, and fill the night clubs and divorce courts.

On the other hand, real happiness is experienced today by the men and women who are doing the world's work. Work is their salvation and their joy, and in their hours of leisure they are both mentally and physically capable of extracting real fun and enjoyment out of whatever form their recreation may take. They find satisfaction and not infrequently glory in their works of achievement, and at the same time are adding to the advancement of their fellow men and the greatness and prosperity of their country.

There is something radically wrong with the man or woman who objects to working, and who can find no pleasure in it, and the sooner boys and girls are taught the nobility of work, and the satisfaction to be derived from any job well done, the better it will be for themselves as well as for others.

When opened recently a 3,000-year-old jar of perfume found in an Egyptian tomb still retained its fragrance. Men who try to keep up appearances often find it necessary to keep up appearances later on.

Improving On Nature

Scientists Making Over Life to Suit Their Own Ideas

Somehow the scientists seem determined to leave nothing as it was ordained by nature, and to make over life after their own ideas of fitness. Now one of them predicts the discovery of a way of doing away with sleep, through the means of a chemical reaction, that will eliminate the toxic products of fatigue. Eight hours of work and sixteen for leisure and recreation is his vision. Poor old nature! How much more man knows—or thinks he knows—than she does! —Youth's Companion.

A FINE TONIC FOR NERVOUS WOMEN

Proof That Building Up the Blood Will Strengthen the Nerves

If you want strong nerves you must make the effort yourself. You can help yourself by refusing to worry, by taking the proper rest, sleep and out-of-door exercise. For medicine take only Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which promptly build up the blood and thus feed the starved, frayed nerves.

A case of extreme nervous exhaustion restored by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is that of Mrs. R. Dundas, Peterboro, Ont., who says:—"Some years ago I suffered a complete nervous breakdown. I doctored with two local doctors, but got no relief. In fact I was growing worse and weaker all the time. In this condition my mother came to take care of me and urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as she had taken them all through the change of life with splendid results. At this time I felt so far gone that I did not care whether I lived or not. But the coaxing of my mother and other relatives finally persuaded me to try the pills. By the time I had taken a few boxes I was feeling a little improvement and was able to move around. As I kept on taking the pills I felt myself able to go out and made a practice of going to a near-by store every second week to weigh myself, and I gained rapidly from 105 to 135 pounds. I continued taking the pills for several months, and it is impossible for me to express in words the wonders they did for me. Nobody but myself knows the tortures I endured from nerve trouble, and now, thanks to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I am a normal, healthy woman. I do not think anyone troubled as I was can find a better remedy than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

If your dealer does not keep the pills you can get them by mail at 50c a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

OCTOBER 24

JOSHUA, ISRAEL'S NEW LEADER

Golden Text: Be strong and of good courage; . . . for Jehovah thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest. Joshua, 1:9.

Lesson: Numbers, 27:18-20, Joshua, 1:9.

Devotional Reading: Proverbs, 2:1-5.

Explanations and Comments

1. Joshua Appointed the Successor of Moses; Numbers 27:18-20.—Every prophet had an attendant, and Joshua had been the attendant of Moses. We have heard about him in Ex. 17:8-16; 18:9; 24:13; 32:17; 33:11; Num. 11:28; 13:16; 14:6-9; 27:18; 31:7; Dt. 1:38; 32:8; 34:9. As he was one of the spies sent into Canaan from Kadesh thirty-eight years before this, he must have been at least sixty years old when Moses died. He was a trained military leader, just the man that was needed to direct the Israelites in their conquest of Canaan, and when Moses was about to lay down his command he anointed Joshua as his successor. The new leader's outstanding characteristics was this, he was a man in whom was the Spirit, qualified to carry out God's will. It is interesting to recall that the name "Jesus" is but the later form of the name "Joshua."

"When a man and woman have the Spirit, God's work can be done. We can get on without learning, we can get on without inspiration. A man with one talent and the Spirit can do infinitely more than a man with ten talents without it. A frail wire, plus the electric current, can do more than massive cables without it. And yet we go on multiplying our wires and neglecting the current. We pile up organizations, and neglect the Spirit. That is the first thing God looked for, for it is the prime necessity of a powerful and efficient life." (Dr. J. H. Jowett.)

The Oil of Power.—It is not claimed for by Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil that it will remedy every ill, but its uses are so various that it may be looked upon as a general pain killer. It has achieved that greatness for itself and its excellence is known to all who have tested its virtues and learned by experience.

NOW PLAN TO COMPLETE H. B. ROAD IN 1927

Saskatoon.—The pioneer gang rebuilding the existing line of the Hudson's Bay Railway has reached the end of steel at Kettle Rapids and decision has been made to construct 18 miles of the gap between the Rapids and Port Nelson this fall, and early winter.

The purpose of this is to reach the Limestone River so that the concrete footings of the steel bridge to be built there can be put in this winter assuring completion of the rails into Port Nelson in 1927. One other steel bridge has to be built over the Airhole River farther along.

About 1,100 men are at work on the road and most of these are likely to be kept at work all winter clearing the right of way, etc.

About 600 feet of trestle work on the north side of Kettle Rapids is being repaired with new timbers at once and as soon as this is done the pioneer gang will continue laying rails to the Limestone on the existing grade which is stated to be in good condition along this stretch.

Extension of the work past Kettle Rapids ends any possibility of the line being diverted to Fort Churchill, as the Kettle is the last point at which this can be done.

Solution For Canada's Population Problem

Providing For Youth Already Here Says Ontario's Farmers

Toronto.—The solution of Canada's population problems should be found not by expensive immigration schemes directed toward the South of Europe, but by providing opportunities for the youth already in the country and for selected ones prepared to emigrate from the Mother Land, Premier G. H. Ferguson declared in an address to the young men's section of the Young Men's Christian Association here.

"I do not think any boy is a delinquent," the Premier said. "Their errors are largely due to environment and can be corrected by providing improved surroundings."

Canada Holds Envious Place

Stands Second in World in Development of Telephones

Montreal.—"Canada stands second in the world in telephone development," declared P. A. McFarlane, Montreal, president of the Telephone Association of Canada, in his annual report presented at the opening session of the sixth annual convention of the association, which took place here.

"In 1925 there was 1,072,454 telephones in service in Canada, against 902,090 in 1921, which is an increase of 170,364," he continued.

"The total investment increased from $168,678,229 in 1921 to $193,884,373 in 1924."

"The question of transcontinental long distance telephony is still progressing."

Ban On U.S. Picture

Decide Not to Show Picture Showing British Escort of Troops

Renewed efforts designed to lift the ban on the United States film "Phantom of the Opera," the arrival of which a year ago roused a storm of protest in the press because British troops were used to escort it from Southampton to London, have failed.

The British Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association voted finally not to show the picture. Representatives of Carl Laemmle, the producer, gave assurance that all parts of a film showing the British escort of troops had been turned over to the war office but the latter still stands by its declaration made last year that the use of the troops was brought about by a "clever, humiliating, advertising hoax."

Governor-General At Work

Arrives at Office at Parliament Buildings Promptly at Eleven Each Morning

Ottawa.—The offices of His Excellency the governor-general in the east block of the parliament buildings are to be remodelled. Under Lord Byng's regime the offices were not used very much and most of the official business was carried on at Rideau Hall. Lord Willington appears at the east block promptly at eleven o'clock every morning and spends some time there signing orders-in-council and carrying on his executive work.

It is understood that while the offices are being decorated Lord Willington will use the prime minister's office. Hon. J. A. Robb, while acting prime minister, used his own office in the finance department in the same building.

Making Unique World Tour

Young Danish Sportsman is Making Journey on Bicycle

Sydney, Australia.—Karl Thornfeldt a young Danish sportsman who is on a bicycle trip around the world, has arrived in Sydney.

From here he will continue his route by steamer to New Zealand and thence to South America with the intention of traversing the entire American continent from South to North on his wheel. From the northern part of the United States or from Canada, Thornfeldt will proceed to England and from there back to Denmark.

Since starting from Copenhagen, over a year ago he has pedalled through Europe, China, Japan, and Java. He expects to finish his unique world tour in Copenhagen by 1928.

Will Convene In December

Date of Sitting of B.C. Legislature Is Announced

Victoria.—British Columbia Legislators will be summoned for the annual session December 16 and will then adjourn until January 10. These dates have been announced by Premier Oliver after they had received the final approval of the cabinet.

The proceedings of December 16 will last less than an hour, it is expected. The House will be called into session and after the reading of the speech from the Throne, outlining the program of the session to follow, the members will disperse until after the New Year.

United States Is Criticized

Pointed Placard Placed on Wall of League of Nations Building

Geneva.—Criticism of the United States was voiced in a placard which was found pasted on the marble slab in the wall of the League of Nations building which commemorates the memory of Woodrow Wilson as founder of the league.

The placard read: "In considering him as the founder of the League of Nations, President Wilson should be considered in a personal sense and not as president of the United States. The American people have done nothing to deserve that their president should be designated as the founder of the league."

Two British Cruisers Visit Philadelphia

Are Paying Official Visit to Sesqui-Centennial Exposition

Philadelphia.—Two fast cruisers of the British navy—H.M.S. Calcutta and H.M.S. Capetown, arrived at the Philadelphia navy yard, to pay an official visit to the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition.

The ships are under the command of Vice-Admiral Sir Walter Cowan, second in command of the Royal Navy. After an official welcome at the navy yard, Sir Walter, accompanied by his staff, motored to the city hall, where he was greeted by Mayor Kendrick.

Mussolini Facing Operation

London.—A Geneva dispatch to The Daily Express says that Dr. Sauerbruch, eminent Bavarian surgeon, has been summoned by telegraph to consult with medical men in Rome, with reference to a proposed operation on Premier Mussolini. The Berne Newspaper Bund says that Dr. Sauerbruch has left Munich for Rome.

Created a Viscount

LORD BYNG OF VIMY

London.—The Canadian Press has learned from an unofficial but authoritative source that Baron Byng of Vimy had been created Viscount.

The former governor-general of Canada was received by the king today and he and Lady Byng later had lunch with their majesties.

The retired governor-general, who is 61 years of age, was created the first Baron Byng of Vimy in 1919, choosing the title in commemoration of the exploits of the Canadians in capturing Vimy Ridge while under his leadership. He commanded the Canadian Army Corps in France for a year. Baron Byng holds many honors. He was made K.C.M.G. in 1915; K.C.B. in 1916; G.C.B. in 1919 and G.C.M.G. in 1921.

Find Gold In Volcano Dust

Russian Peasants Had Farms Destroyed by Recent Eruption

Berlin.—Working day and night as they panned gold from the dust of a recent volcanic outburst, peasants of Kertch, Russia, on the Sea of Azov, are forgetting their farms that were destroyed and praying for another eruption.

When a supposedly extinct volcano near Kertch discharged lava and volcanic dust recently the peasants fled in terror.

Upon returning they found that the dust contained appreciable quantities of gold. Thousands of them immediately sought to gain riches from what had been discharged.

Heavy Wheat Yields

Saskatoon.—Which district of Saskatchewan holds the record yield for 1926? Can any place beat Watson? A. Guttard, 833-20-37-17, threshed 420 bushels of Marquis wheat from six acres of new breaking, an average of 70 bushels to the acre. The seed was extra good and raised on his own farm. Fred Wittig, NE-4, 20-37-17, threshed 241 bushels of wheat from seven by 90 rods of land getting approximately 60 1/2 bushels to the acre.

To The Land of the "Midnight Sun"

Tourist traffic throughout the world has grown to such proportions that it is recognized as one of the greatest revenue producers in the world. And luxurious methods of travel have gone on apace. Bearing this out to a marked degree, was the Norwegian Cruise conducted this summer by the British and Continental Touring Club of London, which had under charter for the better part of a month, the Canadian Pacific liner Montroyal. When this private cruise through the fjords of Norway was organized, the directors of the club sought for a mode of travel whereby their members

May Take Dispute To Higher Court

Alberta Act Fight May Go to Privy Council

Winnipeg.—The Ottawa correspondent of The Tribune says:

The Department of Justice is taking steps to proceed with the reference to the Supreme Court in regard to the constitutionality of the Alberta Autonomy Act insofar as it relates to school funds and school lands. The case, however, will not come up before the winter sittings of the court unless a special hearing is arranged meanwhile.

It is considered very improbable that the projected legislation returning to the province its natural resources will be proceeded with until the court decides on this question and if, as is possible, judgment is appealed to the Privy Council by one side or the other further delay would seem likely.

Noted English Scholar Dead

Dr. Abbott Was Most Famous Headmaster of City of London School

London.—Rev. Dr. Edwin Abbott, who was the most famous headmaster that the famous City of London School ever possessed and whose profound learning had an almost overpowering influence upon serious students of all ages, is dead after having been bedridden for seven years. He was in his 88th year.

Born in London and educated at the City of London School and Cambridge University, Dr. Abbott was assistant master of King Edward's School, Birmingham, and assistant master of the City of London School in 1865 and continued in this position until 1889. He was elected preacher at Oxford University in 1877. He was honorary fellow at St. John's College, Cambridge University, 1912, and fellow of the British Academy 1913.

Stay Of Execution

Russell Scott Is Again Saved From The Gallows

Chicago.—Forty-eight hours before the time set for his execution and for the third time in 15 months, the hanging of Russell Scott for the murder of Joseph Maurer in a drug store holdup was averted.

The state supreme court of Springfield ordered a stay until it can review the proceedings in his last sanity hearing, in which he was found sane after he had spent a year in a state asylum.

The man, who was a vaudeville actor at 20, a Canadian corporation head at 30, and a holdup man at 33, seemed little moved at the news of his new lease of life. So many times he has been jerked from the gallows back to temporary safety that the methods by which his execution has been four times postponed since 1924 have become largely incomprehensible to him.

ASK FOR HIGHER TARIFF ON FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Ottawa.—The Canadian Horticultural Society wants a seasonal tariff on fruits and vegetables coming into Canada from the United States and at a private sitting of the tariff board they presented their argument through L. F. Burrows, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Burrows submitted a memorandum stating that from a survey of conditions in the horticultural areas, the farmers are not prosperous and production has ceased because of lack of prosperity. He gave statistics to show an increasing importation of fruits and vegetables that are produced in Canada as well as of those that are not produced here. The increased importation of the former in 1925 exceeded by $17,562,211 what was imported in 1911. In the fiscal year ended March 31 last, the imports were $13,613,930. This, it is calculated, represented the production of 6,867 farms and enough to provide work for 42,000 people.

The proposition put forward was for a sliding scale of duties on fruits and vegetables which would be highest just before the Canadian product comes on the market so that the appetite of consumers will not have been satisfied beforehand. The present duty is on an ad valorem basis and instead of this a specific duty is suggested of two cents a pound on cherries all the year, two cents a pound on peaches, July 20 to October 31, one cent on pears, July 31 to December 31, one cent on apricots, all the year, three cents on strawberries and raspberries in June and July, three cents a pound on canteloupes and muskmelons, July 31 to December 31, three cents each on other melons, one-half cent on cranberries and 30 cents a box on apples, all the year.

In the vegetable list, the seasonal tariff suggested covers 26 different varieties, including two cents a pound on tomatoes from June to December, two cents on cauliflower May 15 to November 30, three cents on peas, May to September, one and a half cents on lettuce all the year and two cents on cucumbers, May to November. Before the board makes any recommendation to the Government there will be a public hearing of the other side that comprises the dealers and consumers.

Competitive Cable Rates

Would Establish Direct Service to Canada For British News

Ottawa.—"If the Governments of this Dominion and the United Kingdom would only see their way to establish a competitive rate on cables between London and this country, you would have to this country a direct service for British news," declared Sir Roderick Jones, chairman of Reuters' News Agency, in the course of an address before the Canadian Club.

The establishment of a competitive cable rate between London and Canada, which would enable a greater volume of British news to be brought to this country direct instead of by New York, would, stated Sir Roderick, be a fine act of public policy and a very beneficial one from an imperial point of view.

Property Belonging to State Was Removed From Hohenzollern Castles

Berlin.—Removal from Hohenzollern castles and palaces in Berlin of art works valued at from three to four million dollars, and their discovery later in the hands of a local art dealer, may lead to prosecution of the former Crown Prince of Germany, according to press reports.

The property, which was supposed to belong to the state after the overthrow of the monarchy, includes the Watteau painting "The Dance," various Rubens paintings, porcelain vases and two marble vases which formerly belonged to Madame Pompadour.

A very pleasant evening was spent by the members of St. Hilda's Chapter, O.E.S., on Wednesday evening of last week, when the Grand Worthy Matron, Mrs. Landlitz of Calgary, honored the lodge with an official visit. In addition to degree work undertaken by the worthy Matron, Mrs. Durrer and the other officers of the lodge, which by the way was exceedingly well done, a very dainty repast was afterwards served, the tables being decorated for the occasion with lighted candles and the colors of the order.

Five hundred took up the early part of the evening, a dance following. During the interval Mrs. Huget with a recitation and Mrs. D. Edwards with a vocal solo were both rewarded with accolades. Refreshments were served during the latter part of the evening.

There must be some attraction that Ross has when he drives to town every Friday evening.

This fall reminds us of several years ago when one of the old timers was out binding, and he said on the south he could hear Jack Bagshaw speaking kindly to his horses, on the north Harry Brown doing the same, on the east Scottie was yelling to the top of his voice and John Weidner on the West not saying a word, but with the patience the others had the old timer got so mad he jumps straight up and come down straddle of the reel. That's sunny Alberta for you.

Eradicate Diphtheria.

Diphtheria is essentially a children's disease, picking its victims chiefly during childhood and to a less extent in early adult life. It is always a serious disease, and not uncommonly a fatal one. It frequently kills, maims or cripples its victims, chiefly young children. Its onset is insidious. There is no alarming rash, such as is seen in smallpox or scarlet fever, to indicate the malignancy of the disease. There is ordinarily no prostration at the beginning, such as is seen in pneumonia, to indicate the seriousness of infection.

A small grayish white patch on the child's throat is usually the first sign of the disease, and at this stage the child does not appear to be very sick. In some instances the first indication of illness is an obstruction to breathing caused by the growth of diphtheria membrane in the child's breathing passages. At this time the choking, gasping efforts to breathe terrify the child and the parents, but, unfortunately, the stage for favorable treatment has passed.

During the years 1920-1924 inclusive there were 3,906 cases of diphtheria in Alberta. Of these 587 or 15 per cent. died from the disease.

Of those who died 43 were under one year, 158 were between 1 and 4 years old and 351 were between 5 and 14 years of age. Ninety-four per cent. of the deaths occurred in children under 15 years.

The gravity of the situation, however, is not due alone to the substantial number of deaths. While an attack of diphtheria is often mild and associated with comparatively little prostration—except in those cases in which the growth of the diphtheria membrane in the air passages literally chokes the child to death—the complications which accompany and follow diphtheria, frequently, have serious consequences. Various types of paralysis may occur which leave the child crippled for life; mastoiditis, abscesses of the nose and throat, and other septic infections, may cause prolonged or permanent disability, heart disease, and other chronic complications which may persist for a long period—not uncommonly for life—may result in a seriously handicapping disability in later life.

Diphtheria Prevention and Control Antitoxin

When diphtheria antitoxin was put into use in 1895 many health authorities then felt that a relatively easy conquest of the disease would result. In fact, they were mistaken. Diphtheria antitoxin is effective as a cure only if given early. The disappointing feature about antitoxin has been its limited usefulness when given to prevent diphtheria. It only protects against the disease for two or three weeks. The immunizing substance is not held long in the body, and the patient becomes just as susceptible to the disease as before. Diphtheria, itself, does not render the person having had it immune from a second or even a third attack.

Toxin-Antitoxin and Toxoid

Happily, a new means for dealing with the situation became available. Toxin-antitoxin, the preventive measure against diphtheria, was first discovered accidentally in the course of experimentation about thirty years ago. In 1913, Park and Zingher of New York began the immunization of children in a large organized way through the injection of toxin-antitoxin, and its use in many localities has since conclusively demonstrated the effectiveness and harmlessness of this measure. The favorable results have been confirmed in many places in this country and abroad.

Later a modification of this came into general use, the substance used being called "Toxoid," which is the same as Toxin-Antitoxin except that the method employed in neutralizing the Toxin is somewhat different.

It has several advantages over the Toxin-Antitoxin which need not be given here.

The administration of toxoid is a simple procedure and can be safely performed by any physician. Two hypodermic injections of the substance are given in the arm of the subject at intervals of one month between each injection. It is but remotely related to antitoxin. Toxin-antitoxin or toxoid will not cure diphtheria. It will prevent it, but the immunity may be some few weeks in developing. Once established, the immunity will last for years, and probably for life.

Lord Willingdon Honored by McGill

Lord Willingdon, Canada's new Governor-General, was honored by McGill University in Montreal recently, when the honorary degree of LL.D. was conferred upon His Excellency at the McGill University Convocation. His Lordship paid his first official visit to Montreal when he arrived for the ceremony on October 6th. He was met at the Windsor Street Station by E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Chancellor of McGill University, and Sir Arthur Currie, Vice-Chancellor of the University.

Crowds lined the short route of the procession along the University campus and the street bordering the University grounds. The vivid colors of the full academic gowns were seen, his Lordship, tall and impressive, in scarlet and white robes and black velvet cap of the LL.D. The honorary degree was conferred by the Chancellor, Lord Willingdon's great services to India and to the Empire were cited by Sir Arthur Currie when he rose to present His Excellency for the degree of Doctor of Laws. When the degree was bestowed the entire assemblage stood while His Lordship signed the book of honor. In a brief speech he said: "I rise for one moment only as visitor to this University, and by that office, as I understand it, the representative of our beloved Sovereign King George, to express to you, as Chancellor of this university, my sincere appreciation of this high honor that you have done me today in giving me the honorary degree of LL.D."

The University was, continued the Governor-General, taking him much on trust, as they knew very little about him beyond hearsay. "I can only say here and now that I sincerely hope that the future years may show that I am worthy of the trust you have given me this afternoon."

A Youthful Cabinet

Present One is Youngest of Any Since Confederation

An Ottawa writer asserts that the King cabinet is the youngest Canadian cabinet since Confederation. That is, the ages of its eighteen members average less than those of any other. The average is 52 years, the age of the premier, Mr. Robb is the oldest minister and he is no patriarch, being only 67. The baby of the cabinet is Lucien Cannon, 39. Mr. Cannon is three years older than Sir Wilfrid Laurier was when he entered the Mackenzie cabinet in 1877, and six years older than Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper was when he entered the Macdonald cabinet in 1888.

Notable Vessels Of Former Days

Montreal shipping men were reminded of the old days when Montreal harbor was filled with sailing vessels and timber ships, when a model of the good barque Snowdrop was presented to the Navy League of Canada on the Cairn-Thompson freighter, Cairnmark, by the Cairn Line of Steamships, Limited. This model, together with a smaller one of the Cairnmark, was formally given to the Navy League's president, Mr. Sam Harris, by Col. W. L. Gear, vice-president of the Robert Reford Co., Limited.

The presentation took place on July 27th and attending it were many well-known shipping men and members of the League. Among the guests were Dr. Milton Hersey, Mr. T. W. Harvie, Mr. T. E. Trilley, Captain Symons, Captain Millett, of the Port of London Authority, who was visiting the Port of Montreal; Captain Brown, and other commissioners and port wardens as well as members of the Press and officials of the Robert Reford Co.

In the presentation address, Col. Gear outlined the growth of Canada export and trade and showed how the Cairn line, owners of the Thomson line, had consistently kept in mind the requirements of the Canadian trade. Every new requirement was made adequately in the latest improvements on each freighter. He reminded his audience that the Cairn line of steamships was the first to introduce refrigeration in the Canadian trade, and from the position of pioners in cold storage facilities on board ship, had maintained a foremost place in the realm of ocean freight transportation.

Col. Gear reminded his guests of the difficulties under which shipowners in England were operating their lines when he instanced the fact that the Cairnmark, in order to be able to make the trip to Montreal, had been compelled to proceed to Hamburg to fill her coal bunkers. Since the beginning of the strike in May, it had been difficult to secure sufficient coal in British ports.

In presenting the models to Mr. Harris he stated they were built by the builders of the ship they were standing on—the Cairnmark, and presented to the League as mark of courtesy and recognition of the excellent work of that organization. The Snowdrop was formerly popular on the St. Lawrence, and for many years carried timber between Quebec and Sunderland. The Cairnmark, the other model, was lost by enemy action during the war.

Mr. Sam Harris replied on behalf of the Navy League of Canada, whose aims and objects he outlined. The models, he stated, would admirably serve to remind Canadians of their debt to the British Navy and Merchant seamen, and keep before them in the strongest fashion the value of sea safety. Among the many useful activities of the League, he said, was the maintenance of Sea Cadets, who were trained for a life at sea and other occupations under their auspices. In the summer they were provided with camping facilities.

Funds had been raised to build headquarters for the League containing a museum, in which models such as the present ones, and relics of the historic past, might be displayed to the public and to the sea cadets.

Mr. Harris paid tribute to the enterprise of the Cairn line of steamships, and referred feelingly and enthusiastically to his meeting Sir William Noble and Major Cairns, heads of the line, when he was in England in 1923 speaking in the interests of the Navy League in Britain.

The models were suitably displayed in handsome cases, and are beautifully executed in every respect. Pictures of the captain of the ship and the guests grouped around the models were taken, after which the party proceeded on a thorough inspection of the hand some freighter.

The Cairnmark is particularly comfortable for a freighter, and has ample accommodation for 12 passengers. Her spick and span interior and luxurious appointments caused a good deal of approval among the visitors. She carries a complement of 12 officers and 46 men, and possesses one of the finest radio installations, both for receiving and sending, afloat, and one which would do credit to any giant ocean liner. It is possible to get in touch with both Montreal and Newcastle simultaneously, from any point in the Atlantic.

Water Has Become Fresh

Causing Fish in Large Numbers to Leave B.C. Coast

Disgusted with sea water which has become fresh and lacking the necessary salt "kick," fish along the British Columbia coast have decamped in vast hordes, seeking the more palatable open ocean.

This extraordinary movement, reported by fishermen at many points, is the result of torrential rains which fell during the last few weeks, particularly along the exposed west coast of Vancouver Island.

Thousands of newly formed rivulets running into the sea, have made it fresh. At least the surface of the ocean for miles has been robbed of all its saltiness. Hordes of fish, swimming into the ocean on an annual pilgrimage, have found the fresh water far from their liking. In many places they have turned right around and swam out to sea again in search of a more pungent flavor.

silken expanse above them hung lax. When she looked into Teddy's face it was with only mock reproach.

A woman, her voice already shrill from champagne, cried, "Bravo!" Another echoed the cry and then a babble of voices called out to Teddy and to the girl. Men crowded to the stairs, each eager to perform some share of the task of helping Joanna out of Teddy's arms onto the floor. A woman who stood behind John and Brandon said to her companion loud enough to be overheard:

"One of Teddy's best points is that he can love a woman as he has carried that one, without musing her." John's face grew a little whiter, and his fingers twitched nervously. He saw that when Teddy had put her down his arm lingered for a moment around the girl; that he held her close to him while he whispered and that Joanna brushed his cheek with the back of her hand playfully. The woman whom John had overheard spoke again: "Teddy is beginning a campaign. He always does it with a whisper. Whoever this girl is, and whatever she is, there are some people here tonight who will hate her—if Teddy shows signs of following up that little tableau!"

John turned to look at the speaker. She returned his glance and started at what she saw in his face. Then she was amused. She said something to her companion, a man who quite evidently would not be her husband. He surveyed John curiously. He spoke to his companion in a low tone. "Yes. You are probably right. He's in love with the girl. Odd looking chap, but one who would make trouble if he felt like it."

Both Brandon and John sought to make their way to where Joanna stood, the centre of a throng of men and women, some fascinated, as was Teddy Dorminster, by her anxious beauty and freshness, and others paying their sycophantic dues to Yvonne by fawning upon her protegee. But neither reached her side before she was whirled into a dance by Lord Teddy. He surrendered her, after a few turns, to others who pressed forward for the privilege.

Men were fulsome in their compliments. "The mystery of her was the intriguing subject to which everyone led along the route of intimate, personal things, things the men murmured softly while she swayed close with them to the music, or whispered so that her ears alone caught them. It had been decided by Yvonne that the history of her sudden shower of gold from an unknown benefactor should not be told. Kentworth and Brandon, and the few others of Yvonne's intimates who knew, agreed to keep the secret. Dorminster had not been taken into anyone's confidence as to Joanna's wealth. The men who made their devotions to her, and the women who were curiously pleasant, soon gave up their efforts to fathom her after failing in such hints as: "Have you known Yvonne Coutant a very long time? Do you belong in New York, or are you from elsewhere?" The men returned gleefully to their sentimental venturings.

When a score of toasts in punch had been drunk to her, and she had flitted from one pair of arms to another in the dancing, Joanna became conscious of an unfamiliar quality in the murmured admirations heaped upon her. She had been accustomed to the tentative probings of the boys in her old crowd, and their frankly said and usually sincerely meant flatteries, "You're a swell girl!" was what she had learned to expect. Her acknowledgement customarily was prompt and was perhaps, "Is that the best line you've got?" She knew the danger of the threat, or the safety, in every compliment, as her dancing boys paid them, and usually she guided them well away from the edge. But now she felt that her wits must grapple for new understandings. The men who captured her for a few fleeting moments sung their adorations in a more elusive melody. The words of their praises seemed harmless; but she sensed new meanings. Roddy Kentworth took both her hands and held her a little way from him, and looked at her. All that he said, was: "You are very pretty tonight. That dress you are wearing must have been created just for you by a really great artist."

Nothing more. Yet Joanna was conscious that she trembled, and conscious, too, that she had been faithful to the present day mode which required that underneath that dress she wear but a single garment, so delicate and sheer that it almost blended into her skin. Roddy said only that she was pretty and her dress becoming. Yet she understood that the man who was speaking, and who had bantered her but a few nights before with the threat of his pursuit of her, already wanted to take her slim body into his arms and crush it. She decided she would have to strengthen her battle-ments. She had learned to make her lips provocative, and use her knowledge boldly and saucily. She had the sense that in this order of life, so different from the domain of the silk counter and its flirtations, it was much more dangerous to be provoking.

CHILDREN LIKE BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Because They Are Tasteless and Are Easy to Take

One of the strongest points in favor of any medicine for children is that it is so agreeable that the mother does not have to force it down the little one's throat.

Baby's Own Tablets have no drug taste, may be crushed to a powder if desired, and babies like them. They are perfectly safe for they contain no opiate or narcotic. They sweeten the stomach and remove the cause of fretfulness.

Mrs. Arthur Charlebois, Pawtucket, R.I., says: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets to be a gentle laxative and a safe remedy for stomach disorders in children. Our little boy had been given harsh cathartics but these tablets worked more effectively without the severe griping. I can recommend them to all mothers of little children."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Cases ended in death! So a recent Canadian investigation showed. These were not cases of infectious diseases—of consumption—of typhoid! They were cases where a person had sustained some slight injury—a cut, a burn, a wire-prick—and where the wound, being thought not serious enough for careful treatment, had been neglected. Blood-poisoning and death resulted. When you or your children sustain any injury, ensure against infection by applying Zam-Buk. This balm soothes the pain, stops bleeding, and by destroying all germs prevents blood-poisoning, etc. Hence no time need be lost from work or pleasure by those who use Zam-Buk. CHAPTER XVII

John

To make Joanna's appearance a dramatic entrance, openly stage managed, evidently was, an impromptu impulse of Yvonne's. Joanna had expected nothing of the kind. She waited, unsuspecting, in her white and gold boudoir. Yvonne had said: "Give them time to decide who's to be nice to who. Then the few in whom you will be most interested will take you in hand."

When a maid, hurriedly posted to catch Yvonne's signal, informed Joanna that she was expected, she hurried down the stairs from the upper floor and onto the balcony, from which the grand staircase descended. She was still framed in the doorway when she realized that the people in the great room below were waiting for her, Joanna, their faces uplifted.

She caught her breath. A hand flew nervously to her throat. She would have drawn back, but instantly realized that she was too late. Yvonne caught her glance and with a nod reassured her.

Then exhilaration leaped through her stirred pulses. The carnival spirit of the scene below reached up and encompassed her. A new ecstasy of happiness quivered at her finger tips, in her toes and throughout the vibrant warmth of her. This was to be her setting, symbol of the scintillating festival of which her life was to be forever shaped! These people, people of her new world, were waiting down there to welcome her among them and their kind! Bravado came into her eyes and arrogance dimpled her cheeks. She moved over to first step between the curled and carrying stair posts and stood for a moment perfectly still. Then she blew a kiss down the room.

The people in the great room below were waiting for her, Joanna, their faces uplifted.

"A lovelle coming out of her shell," Brandon murmured.

"Gad! She carries it off as if she had been born to masquerade!" Kentworth exclaimed. It was not Roddy's habit to enthuse over a woman except in her presence. He considered it a spendthrift waste of energy. Brandon shot a sharp glance at him. He noted that Roddy was rigid, his lips slightly parted, and that he breathed heavily.

Joanna moved down the stairs slowly, a softly graceful figure that was taunting in its suppleness and the fragrance of its challenge to women in that room who would have yielded much of whatever was precious to them to have caught from her the least of her fascinations—the least of the beauties her confident arrogance emphasized.

Someone, a man, clapped his hands. Immediately another leaped toward the steps. Teddy Dorminster broke away from Brandon and Kentworth, and John, and swept past Yvonne, beating his rival to the girl's side. Before she knew his purpose Teddy had caught her up in his arms. For an instant her eyes flashed and she gave signs of scrambling to her feet, but she smothered the impulse. Teddy held her gracefully, easily, as if he were not unused to such performance. She settled in his arms and steadied her body by throwing a hand around his shoulder. Her golden slippered feet and

STRATFORD WOMAN

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Stratford, Ontario.—"After my first baby was born I started to work on the tenth day and did a big washing on the twelfth day. Being so young (I was married at 19) I did not know what was the matter, so let it go until I was all run-down, weak and nervous, and had a bad displacement. For nearly two years I could not sleep and I would always complain of having 'not a head-ache, but a brain-ache.' My mother is taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during the Change of Life and she recommended it to me. After taking two bottles I began to get a little sleep and to feel better and I have never left off since then, except for about three months. I can safely say I have taken thirty bottles since my second baby was born. I think it makes child-birth easier as I had terrible pains with my first three children and very few with my fourth as I was so much stronger. I am now able to do my work alone, but I am still taking the Vegetable Compound as I am nursing baby."—Mrs. OMER PAUL, 49 Cherry Street, Stratford, Ontario.

If you are suffering from any weakness which causes such symptoms as pains in the side and back and nervous feelings, give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial now.
